

6 Ways To Throw A Unique Baby Shower (Checklist)

1. Baby Shower Invitations

Celebrate the parents' special delivery with personalized online and paper baby shower invitations. Find out what the theme of the nursery will be or the design of the baby shower invites accordingly.

2. Diaper Bag

Find out what the theme of the nursery will be or the design of the baby shower invites, and get a diaper bag in the same theme. Get the name of the baby or the last name of the family monogrammed on the bag. You can also get a diaper bag for the father in colors that he likes such as camouflage or a sports team.

3. Diaper Baby

Find a sleeper and position several diapers inside the sleeper so that the finished product will look like a baby. If you know the gender of the baby, it would be cute to make it pink/purple or blue. If you are unsure of the gender, then you could use yellow or green. The parents can keep the clothes and the diapers after the shower is over.

4. Diaper Cake

Begin with a cardboard base and position diapers around it. Build the diapers up in tiers, and then decorate the diaper cake. You can add rattles, small bottles of shampoo and baby powder, and other items that can be used. This can also be used as a centerpiece on the gift or food table.

5. Bathtub

Find a tub that is large enough to hold baby supplies instead of an infant tub. Put diapers inside the tub so that they fill it about halfway. The rest of the tub is filled with cotton balls so that it looks like soap suds. Fill the remainder of the tub with items like baby wipes, towels, and other bath accessories.

6. Wreath

This is an easy gift to make. Find a Styrofoam wreath and wrap the wreath with ribbon to match the colors of the shower.

Add diapers to the outside of the wreath with a bobby pin or safety clip. Finish the wreath with small toys, one of the baby shower invites, or decorations. The parents can display the wreath on the front door after the baby is born.

There you have it – six items to include in a unique baby shower!